In this technological era the prominence of university education is being more emphasised and reinforcement of quality assurance system in education is in great demand. Higher education institutions like Open Universities are expected to facilitate information processing, knowledge of communication, and quality management of imparting education as part of their fundamental education programs. Defining quality has always been an enormous challenge in the field of providing services to learners especially for Open Universities. In this context VMOU, Kota has followed since its inception quality index on priority. While launching any academic program the university focuses on target learners with the vision of transforming higher education into an aptitude for getting a career. It is so prepared to meet the challenges faced by ODL by attaining / establishing and maintaining high quality education and excellence required in today's world. Appropriateness of the programme to acquire specific skills and competence is fully planned. Details of procedure for Admissions, curriculum transaction and evaluation are now highlighted on Student one view. VMOU online videos have also been linked with programs to make learners more inclined to visual and audio learning. Periodical review meetings of Regional Directors and other stake holders on the programme efficacy is held in which the feedback on curriculum, syllabi and methods of promoting ODL and evaluation is given due importance. Moreover, now the progress and the quality of the programme is monitored by the Internal Quality assurance Cell of the University from the outcome and feedback of the learners as well as the proper documentation maintained in the Centre.

Learner support services are the most vital component of any open and distance learning (ODL) system. It includes wide range of academic and other related activities. ICT facilities and equipment at the study centres, mode of service delivery and monitoring mechanism to ensure effective student support services. The dominant feature of distance education is the physical and often temporal distance that separates the teacher and learner. Because distance students are often placed in a unique situation in which neither teachers nor fellow students are physically present to clarify, discuss, or provide feedback, effective distance education requires a sound learner support system. One important means of analyzing the effectiveness of the teaching-learning experience in a distance education system is through the analysis of the learner support system.
